AN UNEXPECTED VISITOR

"I'm helping too," says Smokey, a six-month old feline who wandered into the Daily Courier office yesterday to escape the chilly wind. Not content to lay on a soft cushion provided by staff members, Smokey jumped onto secretary Barbara Tumpman's chair to investigate her typewriter. Barbara co-operated by loaning her glasses. Smokey was quick with his shutter-finger.

U.S. ROCKET SHOOT SUCCEEDS

1,000 Space Miles

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States Air Force said today it has made a successful firing of an experimental rocket designed to reach out into space 1,000 miles or more.

And there were unofficial reports that a second apparently successful firing has been made in scientific experiments conducted at Eniwetok Atoll in the central Pacific.

However, air force headquarters here gave no immediate details on the first reported firing. Nor did it confirm reports of a double success in the effort to hurl an object farther out into space than any man-made device has gone before.

The reports of the air force Project Farside rocket shoots came as the United States claimed other new gains in science and weaponry. It chalked up these developments Wednesday:

1. Disclosed what the U.S. Air Force called the successful firing of a rocket thousands of miles above the Pacific. The USAF did not say it achieved the 1,000-mile altitude at which it was aiming, but the Los Angeles Examiner said it did.

2. Fired to a 109-mile altitude a prototype of the launching mechanism for the American earth satellite, Vanguard, testing the first stage of a three-stage rocket engine by which it hopes to launch a small test satellite in December and a fully instrumented one by next March.

NUCLEAR DEPTH CHARGE
3. Announced perfection of nuclear depth charges for blasting enemy submarines, saying that these atomic weapons already are aboard some carriers of the Atlantic fleet. The swiftly expanding Soviet submarine fleet is a source of grave concern to navy strategists.

The Pacific test rocket far exceeded in height but hardly matched the popular appeal of Russia's Sputnik, the earth satellite which is nearing its 300th trip around the globe since it was launched Oct. 4. Sputnik was sent to a height of 560 miles as it was directed into an orbit.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U.S. Air Force today reported a B-29 long-range bomber mission more than 100 miles out over the Atlantic.

Ploughs Rescue 200 Sportsmen

PINCHER CREEK, Alta. (CP)—Some of the estimated 200 big game hunters stranded in the foothills of southwestern Alberta began heading home today while others continued hunting as snow ploughs cleared most of the main roads, blocked since Monday.

The hunters were isolated by impassable roads and broken-down vehicles following a severe snowstorm that struck southwestern Alberta, dumping nearly two feet of snow in the Rocky Mountain region.

The storm was accompanied by the second cold wave to move across Western Canada this month. Hardest hit were southern Alberta and Saskatchewan. Practically no snow fell north of Red Deer, but temperatures throughout the Prairies were between 20 and 30 degrees below normal.

SCHOOLS CLOSED
The storm resulted in a rash of minor accidents. Passable roads

Calgary Transit System Out Of Red
CALGARY (CP)—The Calgary Transit System, operating on increased fares, may cut its estimated deficit for the year by 50 per cent.

Deficit to date is $26,570 and it is not expected to climb higher. Fares were increased to eight for $1 or 15 cents straight from the fare of 10 cents in May of this year.

Officials had estimated a deficit of $63,000. Without a fare increase this would have soared to $335,000, officials said.

made it clear the result of the vote is binding on no one; it is an expression of opinion.

He also has made it clear that a negative vote will not be an approval of the province's existing liquor regulations, stating this is not at issue in the plebiscite.

The government's official position also is clear, unchanged from last spring when it accepted approval of the province's committee which said no additional types of outlets should be allowed.

The target test was made Wednesday from Patrick Air Force Base, Fla. The air force said its powerful new missile reached a height of more than 60,000 feet before making a direct hit on an unmanned B-17 plane.

The weather forecaster said little relief can be expected in the next day or two. Skies were mostly clear and no more snow was forecast immediately.

A total of 11.5 inches of snow fell on Calgary, bringing the total snow fall to date for October in the region to 18.5 inches and breaking the previous record of 18.2 inches set in October, 1914.

The low of six degrees recorded Wednesday at Calgary equalled the mark set Oct. 23, 1951.

Snowfall at Lethbridge for October was 23 inches, a record for the all-time record for October set in 1946. Southern Saskatchewan had about six inches of snow, the amount decreasing to the north and east.

SIT IT OUT
The stranded hunters were never in danger. They were warmly dressed but many cars and trucks were abandoned.

The hunters were stranded mostly in the Coleman-Balmore area of the Crownsfoot Pass. An estimated 60 were at the Caribou ranger station while the ranger station at Lynx Creek, also in the Coleman-Balmore district, reported 30 persons spent Monday and Tuesday nights in woods.

Those who spent the nights in woods were equipped with camping supplies. Some hunters huddled around camp fires Tuesday night in The Gap district, 23 miles north of Coleman. They trudged out Wednesday.

Other parts of the province now have this privilege and the Alberta liquor control board has the power to grant it in Edmonton and Calgary. The government, however, wants an expression of opinion through the vote.

An affirmative answer would not be binding.

Under present regulations, alcoholic beverages may be purchased by the bottle from government liquor stores. Beer is sold by the glass and bottle in beer parlors and by the case in government liquor stores, certain brewery outlets and beer parlors.

Liquor by the glass may be obtained only in licensed clubs.

Plywood Workers Still Out

S. and K. Ltd. plywood plant still is closed down today following the walkout yesterday morning of around 75 workers.

Two meetings have been held between the employees and the International "Wood" workers' of America since the walkout but no settlement reached in the seniority dispute.

Clayton Walls, Interior organizer for the IWA, said this morning that while the IWA had no official connection with the walkout, the union was representing the men, in trying to get the plant operating again.

Main dispute centres over a recent layoff and the placing of a foreman. The foreman was placed on a job that was held by another man with more seniority, the union maintains.

"That is the injustice of the situation," said Mr. Walls. STILL NO CONTRACT

There has been trouble between the plywoods plant and the IWA even before the plant started operating earlier this year.

Despite negotiations that have been going on for months, there still is no working agreement or contract between S. and K. and the employees. IWA has certified bargaining rights in the plant.

The contract negotiations are due to go before a conciliation board shortly.

"If we had a working agreement, this wouldn't have happened," Mr. Walls said, in referring to the present walkout.

Hoffa Asks AFL-CIO For Time
WASHINGTON (AP)—The Teamsters Union, in a last-ditch effort to forestall threatened AFL-CIO ouster, today proposed it be given a year's time to institute reforms.

Teamsters headed by the union's president-elect, James R. Hoffa, presented the plan to the AFL-CIO executive council.

The federation leaders were gathered for a showdown vote on whether to suspend the Teamsters from AFL-CIO ranks on corruption charges which have involved Hoffa and other Teamsters chiefs.

The union said it had adopted certain reforms at its recent Miami Beach, Fla., convention.

Woman Detained For Shooting Son

A 44-year-old East Kelowna woman is in custody following the shooting of her 21-year-old son late yesterday afternoon.

In hospital in critical condition with two bullet wounds is Donald William Pearce, farm laborer and gardener. Royal Canadian Mounted Police said Pearce had been shot in the chest and thigh by bullets from a .22 rifle.

Placed under arrest and subsequently charged with attempted murder is Mrs. Marion Pearce.

The shooting, according to police, occurred at the Pearce home in East Kelowna around 5 p.m. Wednesday. The wounded man was taken to hospital by the Kelowna ambulance.

Reason for the shooting was not given out by police, but it was learned that an altercation had preceded the shooting.

Attending physician said at noon today that Pearce had a "fifty-fifty" chance of pulling through.

Apples are being processed at a rate never equalled in the Okanagan before.

Over the past few weeks, grower-owned B.C. Fruit Processors plants are utilizing almost 30,000 boxes of apples a day, or the equivalent of 500 tons, and the total movement of fruit, manufactured goods, empty cans and other supplies required in the operation would fill from 50 to 60 boxcars every 24 hours.

Capacities of the five Sun-Rype plants have been rapidly increasing the past few years, and concurrent with this, so has the demand for the manufactured product.

So with a large supply of processing apples on hand and a good market demand, fruit growers are seeing thousands of dollars being made out of apples that otherwise likely would have to be dumped.

Approximately 1,500,000 boxes of processing apples have so far appeared in the ordinary harvesting and packing of B.C.'s 1957 apple crop, according to B.C. Tree Fruits Ltd., the grower-owned central selling agency.

PUSHED TO LIMIT
To utilize this large quantity of fruit to best advantage, the five processing plants are pushing their capacities to the limit.

Apple juice canning lines are operating two shifts daily and together they are turning out almost 50 cans a minute. The combined daily output of apple juice alone would fill 15 freight cars, or the equivalent of an Okanagan train load.

In addition to this, well over a carload of pie filling is produced and over 50 tons of apples are being converted daily into dehydrated apples.

The large supply of processing apples and the growing demand for juice and other apple manufactured products, is proving to be of vital importance to the fruit growing industry in B.C., according to B.C. Tree Fruits.

OTHERS WATCHING
It has been pointed out by B.C. TF officials many times that without a processing operation, large quantities of apples would likely have to be dumped.

The Okanagan operation is being watched closely by Washington and California growers, who also are faced with the problem of disposing that part of their crops for which there is no longer a sale as fresh fruit.

B.C.T.F. officials point out that southern growers and other Canadian producer groups are becoming increasingly aware of the necessity of creating their own secondary outlets—as has been done by the B.C. growers.

Behind the sudden turnaround in a market which has been declining since mid-July were two facts, in the opinion of financial men. One was the market's own technical condition and the other was President Eisenhower's plan for a series of talks.

Technically, brokers thought the market was due for a rally. Many thought it was overdue.

Iron Workers Strike Ended?
While the report lacked official confirmation, it was learned this afternoon that the iron workers' strike at Vancouver has been called off after settlement was reached in the wage dispute.

A few of the iron workers that walked off the Kelowna bridge project earlier this week returned to work today and more are expected back tomorrow. Full production is expected to be resumed Monday.

Bank Claims Canadian Wheat Surplus Dipping
MONTREAL (CP)—The Bank of Montreal says Canada's whopping wheat surplus, after causing a change in the pattern of the country's farm production, may be reduced after this year's crop.

The change is from wheat to feed grains and larger livestock herds, says the bank, which takes a hard look at Canadian agriculture. In its monthly business review released today.

A major disappointment of the past crop year, which ended July 31, was that Canada's wheat exports fell by 15 per cent to 263,000,000 bushels while the United States "managed to boost its export volume by more than 50 per cent to 542,000,000 bushels."

MAY INCREASE SHARE
The bank says it seems likely U.S. disposal may decline and despite a probable reduction in world wheat trade, "Canada may have an opportunity to increase its share."

This year's Canadian crop is estimated at 370,000,000 bushels, 203,000,000 bushels short of last year's and 60,000,000 bushels below the combined export and domestic consumption total during the 1956-57 crop year.

Pearson Favored For Leader Role

By DAVE MCINTOSH
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada's former external affairs minister, Hon. Lester B. Pearson, appears to be a shoo-in for the Liberal leadership.

The key word is "appears." Liberal members of the Commons seem to feel that the former external affairs minister will win the Jan. 14-16 Liberal leadership convention here hands down.

But there are hundreds of delegates to the convention who are not MPs and whose votes, in the long run, will count the most.

MARTIN KEY OPPONENT
Some observers believe that Hon. Paul Martin, the former health minister, will make it a close fight. Mr. Martin possibly knows more people personally than any man in Canada.

There is also a fairly good chance that Hon. George Marler, bilingual Protestant from Montreal and former transport minister, will contest the leadership.

But the feeling is that he would be a dark horse.

Chances of Hon. Walter Harris, former finance minister who was defeated in last summer's general election, are considered dim. He may not even be nominated for the leadership.

QUEBEC BACKING
Many Liberal MPs feel that Mr. Pearson, an English-speaking Protestant from Ontario, has backing in every part of Canada, including Quebec. They say he can win the leadership even if he had not won the 1957 Nobel Prize for peace.

They add that Mr. Pearson was the cabinet minister most in demand by private Liberal members when the election campaign was being fought.

Mr. Hon. Louis St. Laurent, the retiring Liberal leader, has not signified who his personal choice might be and it is considered unlikely that he will openly favor any candidate as the late Mackenzie King plumped for Mr. St. Laurent in 1948.

DOUBLE TIME
Thus a pensioner might go south for the winter from Oct. 1, 1957, to May 30, 1958, without loss of pension, being paid during the six intervening months. But since four of those months would be in the new year, the pensioner could not start another extended vacation openly before October, 1958, without loss of pension.

The Canadian Press reported erroneously Tuesday that the period of permissible absence without loss of pension would be reduced to three months from six, instead of being increased from three to six.

Albertans Decide Touchy Liquor Issue Wednesday

EDMONTON (CP)—Alberta will hold a province-wide liquor plebiscite next Wednesday to obtain an expression of opinion on a single question.

If the vote is negative, the meaning is obvious: no steps will be necessary to change existing liquor regulations.

If the vote is 51 per cent or more affirmative, it will be up to the government to determine what effect it will have on the present situation.

In any case, there will be no sudden change in Alberta's drinking habits.

The question, to which a yes or no answer will be given with an "x" marking, is plain and simple—do you approve additional types of outlets for the sale of beer, wine and spirituous liquor subject to a local vote?

Roughly 550,000 persons will be eligible to give an answer.

NOT BINDING
Premier E. C. Manning has made it clear the result of the vote is binding on no one; it is an expression of opinion.

He also has made it clear that a negative vote will not be an approval of the province's existing liquor regulations, stating this is not at issue in the plebiscite.

The government's official position also is clear, unchanged from last spring when it accepted approval of the province's committee which said no additional types of outlets should be allowed.

The premier also has clearly opposed additional types of outlets. He says that where consumption of alcoholic beverages is legal, facilities must be available from which the individual can obtain them. He holds that existing facilities in Alberta are sufficient to meet the rights of the individual.

Under present regulations, alcoholic beverages may be purchased by the bottle from government liquor stores. Beer is sold by the glass and bottle in beer parlors and by the case in government liquor stores, certain brewery outlets and beer parlors.

Liquor by the glass may be obtained only in licensed clubs.

MIXED DRINKING
Present regulations prohibit mixed drinking in beer parlors in Calgary and Edmonton and, certain immediate areas. It was decided in the legislature that along with the province-wide plebiscite, voters in those areas would be asked if they want mixed drinking—the consumption of beer by both men and women—allowed in beer parlors.

Other parts of the province now have this privilege and the Alberta liquor control board has the power to grant it in Edmonton and Calgary. The government, however, wants an expression of opinion through the vote.

An affirmative answer would not be binding.

SON-IN-LAW OF DEMILLE

Anthony Quinn Achieves Long-Time Film Ambition

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — News

Happiest man in Hollywood today is Anthony Quinn, who has finally achieved his long ambition of directing a picture. He has the reins on the remake of "Hercules," in which he played a small role 20 years ago.

The picture will cost $4,000,000. I caught him in between sprints around the crowded set and asked if his boss, Cecil B. DeMille, was worried about him.

"I guess not," Tony replied. "After I got the picture started, he took off for Europe."

But two-time Oscar winner Quinn isn't giving up acting. His next assignment will be on the other side of the camera. . . .

SINATRA-BACALL
Frank Sinatra and Lauren Bacall had their first formal outing together in Hollywood society at Frank's party at the Villa Capri after the preview of "Pal Joey."

Nobody's going to push me into anything," Betty said. But it's obvious from their attitude that she and Frank are mighty fond.

Isn't true, as a columnist reported, that she told friends she would never wed again. Her feeling is that she is not the kind to live alone and like it.

Pal Joey is further evidence that the production code is becoming more elastic. Some of the cracks were as racy as any heard in films of recent vintage.

Biggest laugh came when Kim Novak asked Sinatra if he could cook. "Sure," he replied, "a fellow can't live on Wheaties alone."

CORRECTED ABUSE
The Motion Picture Academy, which always moves slowly, has finally corrected the abuse of the "supporting player" category.

Often a star will be dropped to supporting status because victory appears easier in that race.

It has been argued that such winners as Frank Sinatra, Donna Reed, Eva Marie Saint and Kim Hunter have claimed their Oscars in the supporting race when they actually had starring roles.

Gardiner Reveals Grit Policy

OTTAWA (CP)—J. G. Gardiner says the outgoing Liberal government last June in effect assured Governor-General Massey that it would not try to upset the minority Progressive Conservative administration before the latter had time to place its legislation before the Commons.

Mr. Gardiner, former agriculture minister, Tuesday said in the Commons:

"When the government of the day found it necessary to give assurances to the Governor-General, those assurances, of course, were given to the effect that we would carry on in such manner as to make it possible for the new government to have sufficient support in the House to be able to place their policies before the people of this country and carry on from there."

"Therefore I say, with regard to the official opposition of today, that we feel we owe an obligation not only . . . to the group who form a minority in this House and who form the government, but we owe a duty to the Crown and to the people of Canada to see to it that the affairs of this House are conducted in such a manner as to permit of the government placing their views on certain matters, on legislation, on the budget and on the estimates, squarely before this House."

B.C. Carpenters Protest Use Of U.S. Help

NANAIMO (CP)—B.C. carpenters have protested against American companies being allowed to bring unlimited numbers of workers into Canada.

Delegates to the Provincial Council of Carpenters convention here voted to ask federal and provincial governments to stop issuing work permits to Americans. The carpenters contended this "foreign" labor was depriving Canadians of jobs.

Earlier the carpenters argued against use of foreign civilian guards on construction projects and will protest to the federal government what they term a "breach of democracy". They referred specifically to the DEW Line.

First Aid Drill So Realistic Doctor Fooled

TORONTO (CP) — A first aid drill for firemen in nearby Pickering Township was so realistic that one mock victim was on an emergency operating table before the doctor caught on.

In a house known only by some fire department officials, police and ambulance services, nine firemen were made up as explosion victims during a pumping exercise beside the Rouge River.

Matches and gasoline were placed beside them, then other unsuspecting firemen half a mile away were summoned.

A radio station, notified by a passerby, carried a report of several dead and dying.

One of the "victims" lying in the river with only his head above water, finally dragged himself out after a rescuer gave him up for dead.

Hydro Project Would Hurt Columbia Plan

HARRISON HOT SPRINGS (CP) — Provincial Progressive Conservative leader Deane Finlayson charged that any hydro electric project on the Peace River in B.C.'s northland would prevent development of the Columbia for many years.

Speaking at the annual meeting of the Conservative association here, Mr. Finlayson said development on the Peace would lead to power in an area where it could not be used.

"The development is being proposed," he said, "only because the B.C. government would not accept co-operation from the Conservative government in developing the Columbia."

Interest representing Swedish industrialist Axel Wenner-Gren recently announced there was a power potential of 4,000,000 horsepower in the Peace River area.

Cecil Walls, executive director of the B.C. Federation of Agriculture, told delegates that agriculture in the province is undergoing a depression while the rest of B.C. is expanding.

"The industry needs much more attention and government assistance," he said. "The biggest problem is caused by competition from Alberta where federal legislation makes it possible to buy feed grain for one third of the B.C. price."

L. T. Postle, president of the Mining Association of B.C., told delegates that B.C. mining industry was "very sick."

He said he held little hope for future mineral discoveries in B.C. unless the present 10-per-cent resources tax is removed and mine owners have secure title to their mines.

Gowan Giest, 29-year-old Vancouver lawyer, was elected president of the association, succeeding H. S. Harrison Smith of Kelowna. Frank Dorchester is treasurer and John Drysdale, secretary.

Victoria Hard Hit By Flu Absenteeism

VICTORIA (CP) — Influenza absenteeism ranges between five and 10 per cent of all employees in major industries here, a survey indicated today.

Most employers said they felt this was not greatly above normal.

The ailment still seems to be attacking the youngsters hardest although it has declined in some sections.

Complications resulting from the flu are not widespread although hospital admittances for respiratory ailments such as pneumonia and pleurisy are reported slightly increased.

Nose bleeds, some quite prolonged, have become a fairly common companion to the disorder, medical sources said.

Dr. Elizabeth Mahaffy, Victoria-Esquamit Medical Health Officer said family doctors should be contacted when nose bleeding becomes severe.

Ten Trainmen Re-instated

VANCOUVER (CP)—Ten of 20 Canadian Pacific Railway trainmen suspended last week for refusing to cross oil strikers' picket lines at the Imperial Oil Company have been re-instated.

Frank Doyle, local secretary of the Brotherhood of Railroad trainmen said the other ten may be re-instated.

The suspensions were lifted after a winch was put into operation at the plant. It pulls the oil cars into the plant, making an engine crossing unnecessary.

The trainmen had refused to drive the cars into the plant being picketed by the oil, chemical and atomic workers' union.

A strike started at Imperial Oil's loco plant near Port Moody September 24, when contract negotiations failed.

United Nations Has Played Important Peace-Keeping Role

It was twelve years ago today that the United Nations came into being. It was the second time that world nations had organized in an attempt to bring universal peace, freedom and security to the peoples of the world. The United Nations has been struggling with major disputes and dangerous crises almost from the day of its birth and there are some, perhaps, who have become discouraged and feel that the United Nations has been and will be no more effective than its predecessor The League of Nations.

International organizations imposing heavy obligations upon nation states are not born in quiet times. They are instead the products of world upheavals which force upon diverse societies the general conviction that peace can be maintained only if international relationships are founded upon the rule of law.

The record of the United Nations is very different from that of the League of Nations. In the latter group certain of the great states had even refused to sign the covenant while other great states were in a complete state of economic and political chaos. Where the old League balked at economic sanctions against an aggressor and refused even to contemplate the possibility of military sanctions, the United Nations has, for the first time in history, committed great armies to the field in the cause of collective security. On the part of the free nations who compose the great majority in the world organization, there has been no retreat from Charter obligations.

The determination of the free nations to uphold collective security, with or without Soviet permission, is now manifest to the whole world and over an important part of the earth's surface their power to do so has been greatly increased by the establishment, within the Charter framework, of the regional grouping known as the North Atlantic community.

There is much in the United Nations to inspire confidence and faith. The important thing now is that there should be no weakening of resolve, no shrinking from the admittedly heavy price which must be paid if democracy is to survive. Another essential is that the public must remain alert to counsels of appeasement couched frequently in terms of high idealism and based sometimes upon a quite erroneous view of the nature and role of the United Nations. Finally, since the times are dangerous, there must be a cool-headed refusal to gamble recklessly.

Given these essentials, an enduring peace may well be built upon the basis of collective security. In the conditions which prevail today, no other peace can be more than a sham and a prelude to disaster.

Prime Minister Diefenbaker, speaking this week upon the same subject, said that the United Nations is essential to our hopes for a more peaceful and prosperous world. Because the U.N. is but the sum of its parts," he said, "we cannot expect fruitful and satisfactory results from its deliberations unless we ourselves are prepared to give full support to its aims and to its decisions." The organization had had its setbacks, "but in many important and dangerous issues its influence for peace has been so strong and its facilities for conciliation so effective that we must recognize its preservation and development as essential to our hopes for a more peaceful and prosperous world."

Pass Freely Without Interference

Passports are not an invention of modern times and every once in a while there is an outcry against them and the demand that they be abolished. Britain's chief passport officer, Mr. Paul Rex, speaking on Radio Newsreel of the BBC, presented interesting historical data showing that they have been in existence since the earliest days of civilization. He stated that there are records of the actual wording of Roman passports which read: "Let him who dares hinder the progress of the bearer first consider whether he be able to wage war with Caesar."

The wording of the current British Passport is less truculent and more dignified: "Her Britannic Majesty's Principal Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs requests and requires—all those who it may concern to allow the bearer to pass freely without let or hindrance, etc."

There is a clause in Magna Carta, which specifically provides that certain categories of persons might leave the country without a passport, proves that British passports were in existence before 1215, although the earliest mention in legislation is an act of Henry V of 1414. In those days the issue of passports came to be regarded as a royal prerogative which still stands to this day. Passports were signed by the sovereign in person until 1794, since then they have borne the signature of the foreign secretary.

Border Traffic Is Doubled

Traffic across the border at the Highway 97 customs port has nearly doubled during the last eight years, according to the Wenatchee World. About two-thirds of a million people will pass through the border station this year alone.

Discussing the increase, the Wenatchee paper commented:

"The total for 1957 of 677,000 persons—an estimate provided by the U.S. and Canadian customs and immigration officers—is 14,000 more persons than last year."

"Small allowances must be made for local traffic, trucking and possibly other factors but the figure is still staggering."

"United States officials say south-bound traffic will be about 330,000 with about 60 per cent of them Canadians. Canadian officials estimated the north-bound traffic at about 347,000, with about two-thirds of them Canadian."

"This means that some 200,000 Canadians and more than 130,000 Americans are going through Oroville in each direction during the year."

"During the peak months of the summer, southbound traffic included 97,900 aliens, most of them Canadians, and 62,996 American citizens."

"Customs officers reported 115,046 vehicles, mostly passenger cars, had crossed the border into the United States during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1957."

"During the same months the north-bound traffic reached a figure of 157,300, about one-third of the travellers being American."

"Some 115,814 northbound vehicles were reported last year and Canadian officials said vehicle traffic would probably be about the same this year."

"Trucking accounted for some of the increase this year. Several thousand head of cattle, silica shipped from Canada to the aluminum plant at Wenatchee, and apples have added to the shipping volume."

"A tremendous job of promotion, accompanied by great strides in road improvement have made Highway 97 one of the major Northwest highways. And the increase is only starting. Completion of a bridge across the Columbia at Biggs Rapids, the bridge at Kelowna, Blewett Pass completion, and complete road oiling to Dawson Creek will make Highway 97 the Big Road North."

GORDON REPORT

Canadian Agriculture 25 Years From Now

By HAROLD MORRISON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA — Something in the nature of a divination may be in store for Canadian agriculture in the next 25 years.

Food needs in Canada may roughly double; farmers' earnings may rise rapidly; perhaps all of the familiar fruit farms in Ontario's Niagara area may disappear, and Prairie producers may look more to beef and hog sales than to wheat for the mainstay of their incomes.

So predict two university professors in a special 424-page study on the "progress and prospects of Canadian agriculture" prepared for the Gordon economic commission and made public yesterday. The study, most extensive of its kind, was prepared by a team headed by professors W. M. Drummond of the Ontario Agricultural College and William MacKenzie of the University of Alberta.

The professors suggested all of the dramatic changes may be accomplished with virtually no need to clear new lands for farm expansion.

WOULD INTENSIFY USE
The trend, they predicted, would be to greater use of chemicals, fertilizers and weed and insect killers. The Prairies, particularly, had barely entered the age of intensified land use.

In similar vein, they intimated there would be little need to embark on such vast land-enriching projects as the proposed South Saskatchewan River irrigation and power project.

It was doubtful that governments would need to become involved in substantial land settlement programs or to induce increased production by large-scale public investment in land improvement.

The cost, along with "an enlightened public understanding of the consequences," would deter such elaborate programs.

On the whole, the future for Canadian farmers appeared encouraging. In the quarter-century, the report suggested, Canada may retain but not increase her current wheat markets and farmers generally would see the average level of consuming more red meats, poultry meat, eggs, fruits, vegetables and oils and fats and less cereals, potatoes, starches and some dairy products.

MILK BOTTLE TO FADE
Milk buying habits may undergo drastic change. Though the number of children in Canada may be sharply declining, consumption of bottled milk may drop with prospects of developing a perfect dried-milk substitute.

"By 1980, it is expected that fluid milk consumption will have declined by about eight per cent and that milk powder consumption will have risen by about 30 per cent."

While the average Canadian may change his eating habits, the over-all population increase would produce bigger markets for virtually all foods.

Here is an estimate of 1980 total consumption in pounds, with 1951-55 averages in brackets:

Cereals 3,411,000,000 (2,445,000,000); potatoes 2,931,000,000 (2,445,000,000); other starches 2,706,000,000 (1,597,000,000); fruits 5,930,000,000 (2,492,000,000); vegetables 3,864,000,000 (2,006,000,000).

000; oils and fats 933,000,000 (428,000,000); dairy products 11,150,000,000 (6,621,000,000); red meats 4,504,000,000 (2,065,000,000); poultry meat 879,000,000 (411,000,000); eggs 1,199,000,000 (518,000,000).

MORE LIVESTOCK

To get the needed increase, farmers would have to build up their livestock herds. An estimate of 1980 livestock needs, with 1951-55 averages in brackets:

Hogs 18,200,000 (10,100,000); cattle for beef 4,200,000 (2,600,000); veal calves 1,575,000 (1,500,000); milk cows 3,500,000 (3,300,000); milk production 24,600,000,000 pounds (16,300,000,000); hens 37,100,000 (29,300,000); eggs 820,000,000 dozen (518,000,000).

Farm changes are expected right across the country. In Ontario, for example, all of the Niagara fruit belt would be shifted to industrial use and the province's improved farmland might drop by 700,000 acres to 12,000,000. Grain acreage likely would drop and cattlemen might be more dependent on the Prairies for feed grains.

MORE CATTLE IN WEST
On the Prairies the concentration might be on cattle.

"The pressure towards a livestock economy in the West will ultimately bring about a reduction of the practice of summer fallow and an increased intensity of land use."

"Coarse grain yields may be increased considerably through the use of fertilizer and the practice of rotation farming. The acreage in wheat may be reduced but because of improved farming methods, yields are likely to be increased with the result that output will not be altered much."

"Should the level of demand justify it, wheat will continue to be of importance as a cash crop but it will become proportionately less important as the acreage of coarse grains expands and livestock feeding becomes established."

"The mainstay of this livestock economy will be grain-fed animals with a tendency for specialization in hog production."

By 1980, the study stated, more hogs may be produced on the Prairies than in any other region.

B.C. TO IMPORT MORE
British Columbia's food problem likely would become intensified. She now imports about 70 per cent of her beef. By 1980 she may be importing 90 per cent from the other provinces, along with butter and cheese.

"Despite increases within her own borders, British Columbia is destined to become even more dependent than in the past on other parts of Canada for meats and processed dairy products."

While the new revolution for farmers may brighten their future, they still would face many problems. Among them would be need of credit and capital.

But the study opposed any more towards easy credit arrangements, which could lead to increased production and lower prices or build up heavy competition for farm land and boost land costs.

To meet most needs, the present "institutional" arrangements for providing credit, such as banks and other organizations, would be adequate for the future. The study made some qualifications, such as farmers' need of credit in the event of some disaster, or to build up equipment and livestock or to pay off a partner retiring from a farm partnership. The study suggested there is justification for continuing national effort in agricultural research.

Children In The Night

In Spokane a stricken mother has voiced a familiar expression of anguish.

When her 13-year-old son became involved in a robbery during which a shop-owner was killed, the mother cried: "It couldn't possibly be my boy."

The report indicates that her child was directly implicated. The police statement said he and a companion had sneaked from their homes while parents thought they were sleeping, and committed the robbery that led to the death of the shop-owner.

The circumstances surrounding the case are not unique. Trusting parents in other parts of this continent have assumed their youngsters to be safely in bed when they were, in fact, engaged in crime.

It may be impossible to guard against such juvenile deceit and preserve a normal home. But the case should impress all parents with the importance of making it their business to know where their children are at night and what they are doing. A failure to take such interest can lead to tragedy no less than that inflicted on the Spokane mother.

LOCAL AND DISTRICT

AT VERNON

Factors Govern Flu Absenteeism

By REG SORTWELL
Courier's Vernon Bureau

VERNON—Influenza is taking its toll on Vernon's commerce. Admittedly, the figures for Vernon School District 22 are dramatic, for Wednesday's total was 1,091 students absent in the school district. This is roughly one third of the total student body. And the situation is worsening.

But it must be remembered that there are certain factors that contribute to keep one out of every three pupils away.

Some of the children will have their usual winter colds, possibly just a sniffle or two. But under the scare of the terms "Asiatic" and "virus", many parents probably are keeping junior away as a precautionary measure.

Whereas under normal times he would have been given an extra handkerchief and sent off to school anyway.

Then there is the fact that, to a limited degree, students, especially in the upper grades, haven't got too much back work to catch up on, and these do not need much of an excuse to stay home.

When an employee is away, it is costing somebody money. Time is money in business.

So the average working person cannot afford the luxury of staying home with a head cold. Instead, he staggers off to work to insure the "bacon" supply.

The working adult can hardly afford to die.

In a survey of banks, groceries, department and drug stores, and cafes in Vernon, it was the same story; the statistics differed slightly but the theme was the same.

Most reported an average of one person a day is absent so far this week. The next day will find someone else on the sick and "virus" list.

The owner of one cafe, presumably left a white collar job elsewhere to help his hastily gathered emergency staff run the place. Even the cook waited on customers.

A few stores have had negligible absenteeism and people still seem to be patronizing refreshment parlors. The flu has not been responsible for any lost business, one bartender reported.

Public Speaking Classes Will Be Conducted In Two Schools

Need for the individual to be able to speak effectively is probably of greater importance today than ever before. More and more people are taking an active part in the affairs of their community, while in business life, the ability to speak clearly, concisely and in a manner that holds and impresses, is recognized as one of the great steps toward promotion and success.

Well aware of this, the Kelowna Board of School Trustees, in its night school program, has arranged special classes in public speaking, under the instruction of James Peter Ferguson, LTCL.

Mr. Ferguson was instructor in public speaking for the adult education department of the Vancouver school board from 1923 to 1935, and from 1935 to 1936. During the interval he was engaged in his work in Toronto and in England up to the outbreak of war.

This year, classes have been arranged as follows: Monday,

Fined $25 For Assaulting Mother-in-Law

A district man was convicted in magistrate's court yesterday of striking his elderly mother-in-law in the face with his fist.

Walter Dionne, R.R. 2, pleaded innocent to the charge of assault, protesting that he didn't know what he was doing because he had been drinking.

However, Stipendiary Magistrate Donald White adjudged him guilty and assessed a fine of $25, plus $4 costs. Complaint was laid by Mrs. Barbara McLoud, 62, Oct. 28 at the George Fringle high school in Westbank, and on Wednesday, October 30 at the Kelowna senior high school, Harvey Avenue.

Both classes will run for 20 weeks, and enrollment is to be made at the schools at 7:30 p.m. It is expected that many will wish to avail themselves of this opportunity for personal development and advancement.

Church Women Plan Bazaar November 22

PEACHLAND — At a recent meeting of the St. W.A. to the United Church held at the home of Mrs. W. D. Miller, plans were discussed for the annual bazaar and the date set for November 22, in the United Church Hall.

There will be home cooking novelties and needle work for sale, and afternoon tea will be served.

The Peachland Curling Club decided at a recent meeting to operate the club the same as last year with regard to choosing rinks, also with a minimum of rink rinks. It is hoped the ice will be ready about November 15.

An inter-club bonspiel is being planned for the commencement of the season.

Mr. and Mrs. Niel Witt have returned from a motor trip to Alberta, visiting relatives and friends in Edmonton and Vancouver. En route home, they spent a few days with Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Baptist at Spillamacheen, returning home via the Big Bend.

Dial-Teletype System Being Studied Here

Possibility of setting up a "Telex" teletype exchange in Kelowna, is being investigated.

W. L. Burnham, special representative, and G. T. Morris, supervisor of sales for Canadian National and Canadian Pacific private wire service, are in Kelowna today, surveying the potential market for this new type of service.

"Telex" is a trade mark for an international and Canadian dial-teletype system. "Telex" subscribers in Canada are able to dial any other subscriber automatically throughout the nation, and 37 countries in the world.

The system is of European origin and has been brought to Canada this year by the two railway companies.

It is understood that a minimum of six subscribers would be necessary before the service could be established in Kelowna.

Mrs. F. Dyson Early Alta. Settler Dies

Mrs. Florence Dyson, widow of Arthur Dyson, succumbed yesterday in the Kelowna hospital at the age of 92 years. She had been a local and district resident since 1927.

Survived by seven children—most of whom reside in the city and district—31 grandchildren and 35 great-grandchildren, the late Mrs. Dyson was one of the earliest settlers in central Alberta, and cherished her membership in the Southern Alberta Oldtimers' Association.

Born at Swansea, Wales, June 19, 1865, she spent most of her life in England at Ipswich. At the age of 19, she came with her mother and the family to Calgary, going a little later to a homestead in the Red Deer district. This was in 1884.

In 1892 she married Arthur Dyson of the North West Mounted Police in Calgary. In 1904 she went to South Africa, to the Transvaal, to join her husband, who was serving with Col. Steel in the Canadian Mounted Rifles. He died in South Africa in 1910 and was buried there.

Later that year, Mrs. Dyson returned to Calgary. She came to the Kelowna district in 1927 to live with members of her family and for the past 18 years she had been residing at her home at 766 Sutherland Ave.

Left to mourn are: five daughters, Mrs. H. R. (Nina) Perry, East Kelowna; Mrs. E. R. (Ella) Cherer and Mrs. Muriel Snelgrove, both of Kelowna; Mrs. I. H. (Nora) Abercrombie, Calgary; and Mrs. C. B. (Peggy) Boyer, Enderby, and two sons, Terence and Spencer Dyson, both of East Kelowna. Besides the 31 grandchildren and the 35 great-grandchildren, she also leaves one brother, Frank Hudson, Fort St. John, B.C.

Funeral service will take place Saturday afternoon at 2:30 at the chapel of Kelowna Funeral Directors, with Rev. J. E. W. Snowden of the Okanagan Mission, officiating. Burial will be at the Kelowna cemetery.

"Plan-Now, Do-It-Now" Campaign In Vernon

(Courier's Vernon Bureau)

VERNON — "Plan-now and do-it-now." This winter, as in the past, the do-it-now theme will be the dominant message from the local National Employment Office.

However, this year—and more precisely November 1—will see the start of an even more intensive campaign to ease the current economic lull.

With Christmas approaching, statistics paint a picture that is anything but happy.

Up to Oct. 17, the number of unemployed, both male and female, had more than doubled than for the same period in 1936. Overall total of jobless was 513 as compared with 235 a year ago.

LARGE LABOR FORCE
Expected seasonal layoffs contribute to this figure, but it is further swollen by the large labor force at present, in this area, as well as all over Canada.

Also a big factor in the number of jobless is the condition of the lumbering industry. Lumber markets (or absence of markets) has made owners much more ready to close down entirely, to reopen at a more profitable time.

The area serviced by the Vernon office of the Unemployment Insurance Commission stretches all the way to Golden, B.C. All this area is more or less equally affected. No one area has contributed extra heavily.

Normally, the situation could be expected to show signs of improvement in March, but any influx of severe weather could further retard correction.

CALL MEETING
The Vernon do-it-now program is a more comprehensive attack on the problem than that supplied by the usual national brochures which have been distributed to all National Employment and Unemployment Insurance offices.

Under the auspices of the UIC here, there will be a meeting at City Hall November 1. The business men of the district will be asked to make a special effort to have any work, that can be done just as well in the winter as in the summer, taken care of now.

The campaign will be directed those in offices, shops and factories, also to warehouses, transportation depots and homes.

Posters of various sizes will be placed strategically to keep the project in the public eye.

where the income dollar goes

In supplying hundreds of different oil products to Canadian consumers from coast to coast, Imperial last year took in a large number of dollars. What happened to a typical dollar?

Well, nearly 56 cents went to buy raw materials—notably crude oil—and for freight, a big item in a big country.

More than 26 cents went for operating and administrative costs, including wages and salaries, and for depreciation. Ten cents of each dollar went to various governments in taxes (this does not include the provincial gasoline tax.)

Half of what was left—or about 4 cents—was put back into the company's operations. The other half was divided among Imperial's 44,000 shareholders, whose investment makes possible the company's existence.

Trees on Barnard Ave Come Under Sharp Axe

(Courier's Vernon Bureau)

Three of Vernon's oldest trees fell in the street Tuesday, victims of the new building surge. The lined and gnarled trunks were three of the many profuse elm trees that line Barnard, the most heavily concentrated being in the vicinity of 33rd Street.

Defiant to the end, the trees succeeded in taking up enough of the thoroughfare, that the street was effectively closed to traffic. Half a dozen men, a lift truck, and one dump truck, comprised the attacking force that finally brought the new street to the light of day.

Apparently the trees obliterated the store's sign.

TOWN PLANNING ACT

City council passed the town planning committee's recommendation that the area around 25th Ave. south of 32nd St. be zoned as residential, and that no industry be allowed in that area.

It was further decided that if any building was to be moved, within the zone, city council's permission must be asked.

CRIME UNDER CONTROL

The large number of breaking and enterings are now under control. This was disclosed in an RCMP report to city council.

Two men have been convicted on two counts, and remanded for sentence. Another pair received two years each, under the juvenile delinquency act.

Of the nine fire calls listed in the report, four were false alarms. One such call was placed by small children who stood on their wagon to reach the box. In another instance, a young Oriental woman was found standing beside the tripped alarm, with a handful of letters.

Mayor Frank Becker cited these examples of how the fire service and equipment can be wasted. He proposed that some more modern system of fire communication be looked into.

DETENTION CELLS

The John Howard Society has urged that city council write the minister of public works for the provision of more space for the separate detention of juveniles.

This proposal resulted from the appearance of a delegation from the society, before the last council meeting.

CLEANER STREETS

Mayor Frank Becker queried city engineer F. G. Dewolfe, on the state of Vernon streets, particularly the main streets on Monday mornings.

The mayor felt that the litter was excessive, and since the installation of gas pipe lines was no longer in progress, there was no reason why Vernon's streets could not be a little cleaner. Mr. Dewolfe agreed to have the matter investigated.

CAMPING SITES

The Hon. Earle Westwood, minister of recreation, was conducted on a tour of possible tourist, tenting and camping sites.

Two suitable locations, as yet undisclosed, were mentioned by Mayor Becker, who made the tour in conjunction with MLA Hugh Shantz.

Also of interest tourist-wise, was the pheasants unlimited, program, whereby 500-600 pheasant eggs would be imported from China.

It was felt that the cross breeding of local and Oriental birds, would revitalize the present pheasant population.

It was alleged that inbreeding has produced a less hardy local variety. Careful handling of the pleasant situation is expected to develop it into a second industry for Vernon, and the Okanagan, it was felt.

ARENA BYLAW

First reading was given to a bylaw for the improvement of the Vernon Civic Arena.

Extensive alterations, both inside and out, are planned. Total cost of renovation will be $70,000.

New facilities for the convenience of the public, new brine tanks, a separate storage building, and a new pump and an addition to the front of the present arena, were mentioned.

Matter will be further discussed with the arena committee.

Ian Garven, city clerk, and James Griffin, assistant city clerk, both received certificates at council meeting.

The certificates were issued by the faculty of commerce and administration, at the University of British Columbia.

Both Garven and Griffin, recently completed the four year course in business administration. The presentation of the well earned awards was made by Mayor Becker.

OTTAWA REPORT

Probe Subsidy To Ship Firm

By PATRICK NICHOLSON

OTTAWA — Subsidies paid by the Liberal government to a west coast shipping company are under the microscope.

The Conservative government is examining the reasons behind payments to Union Steamships Limited, which for some years have amounted to $225,000 per year, and just before this year's general election were boosted by an additional $237,000.

Prominent in the affairs of that company is Stanley Stewart McKee, a Liberal Senator from Vancouver, who is president and shareholder of the concern. He is also known here as the man who for long and with notable success has been the raiser of campaign funds for the Liberal party in British Columbia.

This huge subsidy was voted to Union Steamships Limited after a very superficial three-minute discussion in Parliament last spring, when Howard Green, Conservative M.P. for Vancouver-Quadrant, questioned Finance Minister Walter Harris. Mr. Harris said in effect that no other shipping line could provide the service offered by Union Steamships, and that the subsidy was essential to enable it to operate.

Shipping officials on the west coast however were quick to note this column's reference to the case, and hastened to forward their support of this column's questioning of the validity of both of Mr. Harris's arguments. I am very grateful for those comments, and interested to learn that government action appears to reinforce this column's doubts about the subsidy.

QUESTION FREIGHT RATES

Among the points which the government enquiry will cover is the important principle of subsidizing one out of two or more competitive private businesses.

As far as I have been able to ascertain, Union Steamships Limited carries freight and passengers between Vancouver and a number of points on the north mainland coast and the islands. But whether the route is to Haines and Stewart in the far north, to the Queen Charlotte Islands, or to the northern tip of Vancouver Island, one or more other steamship lines apparently duplicate the service. However, Union appeared some months ago to be the only line sailing to Bella Coola.

George Hahn, Social Credit M.P. for New Westminster, has for some time been taking a close interest in this disbursement of the taxpayers' money. One of the points which should be carefully examined, he believes, is the schedule of freight rates and passenger fares charged by Union and by competing lines. Another is the degree to which Union distributes complimentary passenger passes. Another is the scale of wages paid by Union and by other shipping lines. Mr. Hahn evidently is asking the basic question: does this government subsidy permit one steamship company to better its competitive position against its rivals?

REPAYMENT OF CAPITAL

It is not through shortage of ready cash that Union Steamships Limited came to apply for this subsidy. For last year a stock dividend of redeemable preference shares was paid off, at a cost of $1,071,605 to the company, thus putting that sum in cash in the shareholders' pockets. In the past three years, a total of $1,212,000 has been taken out of the taxpayers' pockets to be paid to the company in subsidies.

The enquiry by the new government is indeed timely. If there are valid grounds for the payment of this subsidy, the minds of the taxpayers and of their parliamentary watchdogs such as Mr. Hahn will be set at rest. If there are not valid grounds, then presumably the subsidy will be halted and the saving will go towards welcome reduction in our taxes.

Canada Tied In Fourth Spot In Golf Tournament

By WILL GRIMSLEY

TOKYO (AP)—A course-record 67 by Sam Snead and a fine 69 by Jimmy Demaret sent the United States off to an imposing five-stroke lead over a surprising Japanese tandem today in defense in the international Canada Cup golf championship.

Nine points back of the Americans were Canada's Stan Leonard and Al Balding, whose 145 total was good for a tie with the Australian entry in fourth place.

Putting the Kasumigaseki Country Club's rough, koral grass greens as if they were marble-topped, Snead and Demaret out-classed hand-picked professionals from 29 other nations in the opening round of the 72-hole medal play tournament.

JAPS SECOND

Five strokes back came Torakichi Nakamura and Koichi Ono, who finished to the applause of a partisan gallery of some 6,000. It included Prince Takamatsu, a brother of the emperor.

Nakamura, 42, a teaching professional, shot a 68, and Ono a 73 for 141.

A competitive course record for this picturesque 6,895-yard layout previously was 69, held by Tokyo players.

Two strokes back of the Japanese at 143 came the young South African team of Harold Hamling and Gary Player, who shot 71 and 72, respectively.

LOS-ANGELES (AP)—Big league baseball flew into Los Angeles and a tumultuous welcome Wednesday night.

Hundreds of spectators strained against ropes as the chartered plane carrying the vanguard of the Los Angeles Dodgers set down on the international airport runway.

A U.S. senator was jostled unnoticed in the crush. Even an old National League umpire, Beans Reardon, was smiling.

President Walter O'Malley was the first of the 28 Dodger officials aboard the plane to face the throng. His beaming Irish face was greeted with a loud roar.

Junior Gilliam was the only ball player aboard the twin-engine plane. But slugger Duke Snider, who lives in suburban Compton, was on hand to greet his associates.

Other players, including Pee Wee Reese, Gil Hodges, Gino Cimoli, and Roy Campanella, are expected to arrive before a civic luncheon Monday.

SEVEN NEW FACES

The Detroit Red Wing team that started the 1957-58 season contained seven players who were not with the team that started the NHL season a year ago. This amounts to over a third of the personnel being new this year.

The seven players are goalie Terry Sawchuk, defenseman Gordon Stratton and forwards Johnny Wilson, Guy G. Fielder, Tom McCarthy, Forbes Kennedy and Top Track Stars For Centennial?

VANCOUVER (CP)—The British Columbia Track and Field Association is making tentative plans to bring some of the world's great athletes to Vancouver for a centennial track and field meet next June 6-7.

The meet would be tied in with year-long celebrations of B.C.'s 100th Anniversary.

Bob Osborne, president of the centennial sports committee, said "We are still presently in talking stages. We feel that within the next few weeks we'll be able to start getting things really rolling."

Mr. Osborne returned from Victoria where he attended a meeting with B.C. track and field president Bob Hutchinson.

Highlight of the meet would be a "dream mile" in which 12 of the world's top milers would be asked to participate. They would include Derek Ibbotson, present holder of the 3:57.2 world's record, Ken Wood and Brian Hewson, all of Britain.

Milers from Finland, Sweden, Czechoslovakia, Australia and the United States also would be invited. Russia's Vladimir Kuts, who holds the world record for the 5,000 meters, is mentioned for the 5,000 and the two miles.

Cougars - Will Protest Game

VICTORIA (CP)—Coach Colin Kilburn of the Victoria Cougars said Wednesday night an official protest would be made to president Al Leader of the Western Hockey League regarding Wednesday's game, here between the Cougars and the New Westminster Royals.

The Royals won 7-6 after being forced into a sudden-death overtime period.

Kilburn said the protest basis came at 7:13 of the third period when Victoria was arguing that Arnie Schmutz of New Westminster was off-side when he took a pass and scored to break a 4-4 deadlock.

During the argument Royals coach Hal Laycoe threw a towel on the ice in front of Victoria forward Eddie Dorohoy.

Dorohoy rushed over to the New Westminster bench and splintered his stick on the boards near Laycoe.

Referee Lloyd Gilmour gave Dorohoy a misconduct penalty for his actions and assessed a bench misconduct to Laycoe.

Section 11 of rule 42 in the WHL rule book says that a bench minor should be imposed against the offending team if anything is thrown on the ice during stoppage of play.

A bench minor would have been served by a player instead of a non-playing member of the team and therefore would have given the Cougars a one-man advantage in the tight game, officials said.

Leats Handed Fifth Defeat In Six Starts

By MARTY GOODMAN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Coach Phil Watson of New York Rangers recently pondered publicly whether Boston Bruins would lose a game in the National Hockey League this season. They were that good.

At the time Watson's Rangers were having trouble getting untracked and Bruins were coasting toward a four-game win streak.

Take a look at today's standings and notice which team is in third place, one point behind Boston.

New York Rangers, of course, with three wins, two losses and a tie.

Flyers Dub Nelson 5-4

By The Canadian Press

A third-period goal by Dave Gordichuk Wednesday gave the Spokane Flyers a 5-4 victory over the Nelson Maple Leafs in a Western International Hockey League game in Nelson.

The win, Spokane's second in two starts this season, gave the Allan Cup finalists first place in the league—two points ahead of the Rossland, Nelson and Trail.

Gordichuk's winning counter was his second of the night besides an assist. Lloyd Maxfield, Denny Goodwin and Joe Zahara scored the other Flyers goals.

For Nelson, Mickey Maglio was the big scorer with a hat-trick. Dave Stewart slapped in the other.

Tonight Spokane moves to Trail. The Smoke Eaters were edged 8-6 by the Flyers first time round. Trail coach Jerry Thompson has been cracking the whip with his team and expects junior Ed Ferenz, in his first year in senior company and veteran defenceman Joe Conn to carry much of the load.

There was no action in the Okanagan circuit Wednesday. Friday Kamloops Chiefs, rebounding strongly after a setback by flu will try to continue their winning ways over Penticton.

Hal Tarala's Vees are winless and twice the Chiefs have scored 10 goals on them.

Vernon, whose only win has been a 4-2 one over Penticton, play Kelowna in the regatta town. The Packers have one of their strongest teams in some years in the league and are currently on top of the ladder with three straight victories.

PRENTICE BEST

Left-winger Prentice is shining brightest now. He fired the first two goals against Toronto, tipping in defenceman Lou Fontinato's drive for the first and converting Bathgate's pass for the second while Rangers were short-handed.

New York's third goal came while Leafs' Ron Stewart was off. Camille Henry's zizzler was blocked by Ed Chadwick and Guy Gendron flipped home the rebound. Dave Creighton also received an assist.

Some 9,168 fans watched the first game between the teams this season and Lorne Worsley's first shutout. He made 26 saves while Toronto's Ed Chadwick handled 17 shots.

Patterson Ranks With Grid Greats

By WILF GRUSON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

TORONTO (CP) — It was four years ago that Hal Patterson first flashed on the Canadian football scene, an unknown import from the University of Kansas.

There was nothing to indicate that the rookie end, then 21, would turn out to be the type of player coaches dream of and seldom find.

The Montreal Alouettes' sensation gets better each season and in the opinion of Ted (Toronto Telegram) Reeve, who has seen many of Canada's all-time greats play, Patterson now ranks in that class. Reeve, an astute judge of football talent who once coached and played the game himself, wrote:

"There were giants in those days — Smirle Lawson, Lionel Conacher, Yip Foster, Dave Sprague.

ONE OF IMMORTALS

"And now there is Patterson. He belongs: he is up there with the immortals of Canadian football. None was better than Patterson this past weekend Oct. 14."

What this great player did is typical of what he has been doing all season. His individual brilliance once again saved another game for the Alouettes. They were trailing Ottawa Rough Riders 24-16 at the end of the third quarter when Patterson went to town and scored two touchdowns on ground plays to give the Als a 32-24 victory.

He can do practically anything on a football field. He's considered the best pass receiver in the country, an outstanding blocker and tackler and the best defensive halfback in the Big Four. He has no peer in running back kickoffs and, in unusual plays for an offensive end, is used also on running plays and as a passer.

"Mr. Wonderful" set eight Big Four records last season and was voted the country's outstanding player. This year he appears a cinch to win the Big Four scoring championship.

HIGH ON MCGILL PLAYER

Herb Capozzi, general manager of British Columbia Lions, probably will be happy to learn Teddy Morris, another of the all-time Canadian football greats, thinks pretty highly of Joe Poirier, speedy, pass-catching end with McGill University Redmen. Morris, who coached Toronto Argonauts to three straight Grey Cup titles in 1945-46-47, now has the job of recruiting Canadian players for the Big Four club. He was interested in lining up Poirier for Argos until he found out that Capozzi has him ticketed for future delivery to the Lions.

Milt (Toronto Star) Dunnell says Tedder was enraptured after seeing Poirier gallop for a couple of touchdowns, recover a fumble and intercept a pass against the University of Toronto Blues.

"A boy might do some of them things I've seen this boy do and it could be an accident," said Tedder. "But he does the right things and he's in the right places so often it's more than an accident. Looks like a pretty good prospect."

Poirier, who comes from Verdun, Que., played junior football last season with Notre Dame de Grace when Capozzi coached that team. Capozzi took Poirier out to the Lions' pre-season training camp for a trial after being appointed general manager of the WFLU club.

The Lions, who need Canadian players, would have kept him back east.

around this season if he could have enrolled at the University of British Columbia. They told him he would probably sit on the bench, but he had trouble getting into UBC and so decided to come back east.

Vernon Cage Squad Beats Armstrong

(Courier's Vernon Bureau)

VERNON—Adaptability provided part of Vernon Laker's 51-42 triumph over the Armstrong Shamrocks, in Wednesday's exhibition cage tilt at the senior high here.

The second half pace also took its toll of the senior "C" Armstrong crew.

A lovely, one hand field goal from center by Armstrong's Ellerbeck, their high scorer, left the tally at 10-7 at quarter time, with Vernon claiming the deficit.

Gray, Roth, and Munk kept Vernon scoring goal for goal with the Shamrocks. Vernon snipers were particularly deadly from key-length distance. The half ended with the Lakers trailing 20-19.

Third quarter action had Armstrong's D. Blumenauer, and Vernon's Gray keeping the score a close 25-24 for Vernon.

Up until the last four minutes of play, Armstrong's tired quintet did little scoring in the final quarter. Vernon's change to man-to-man defence effectively shackled the Shamrocks. Roth and Gray piled up a 10 point lead at this time for the Lakers.

The final four minutes saw a game Armstrong team match Vernon basket for basket, with a breakaway by Roth, and a deliberate one hander, by C. Blumenauer ending the scoring for both teams.

Pink Velvet Could Take Woodbine

TORONTO (CP) — One terrific workout doesn't mean a pot of gold but the talk around the stables today is that a home-bred, and a filly at that, could take the big money in Saturday's $60,000 Canadian championship at New Woodbine.

The cause for jubilation is a spirited filly, Pink Velvet by name and owned by Toronto's Bill Beasley. Pink Velvet disdained the mud and slush Wednesday to gallop 1 1/4 miles in 1:51.1, the fastest training move over nine furlongs ever recorded in Canada.

The sprint made the railbirds consult their form charts. It wasn't too surprising to chalk eaters because Pink Velvet has won eight races and more than $60,000 this season and is considered by some critics the best mare to perform on a Canadian course in the last 30 years.

FOREIGN FAVORITES

Pink Velvet's sprint was made just a few hours before a couple of pre-race favorites arrived on the scene from the United States — Find, owned by Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt, and Wise Margin from the Sam Tufano Stable.

Find, winner of $651,354 in its career — $229,550 of it so far this season — and the veteran Wise Margin with total earnings of more than $300,000 made their appearance at the $13,000,000 track almost unnoticed. The clockers were still talking about Pink Velvet's workout.

The age-for-weight race over one mile and five furlongs has attracted a field of about 10 horses, including four from Canada. The starting field will be known Friday when owners pay $50, the final acceptance fee.

If 10 start, first-place money will be about $60,400, equalling Pink Velvet's earnings this year.

The foreign contingent already here besides Wise Margin and Find include Spinney, which won the $100,000 Santa Anita maturity for owner Louis Rowan this year and at the same meet placed second in the $100,000 San Juan Capistrano Handicap.

'Flu Bug Hits Lions

VANCOUVER (CP) — B.C. Lions, chasing Calgary Stampeders for the last playoff spot in the Western Interprovincial Football Union, have been struck by flu.

Ted Hunt, Art Shannon and Rae Ross, Canadian halfbacks, are all in bed. Coach Clem Crowe took no chances on the rest of his team falling ill so sent them in to study movies.

Gordie Mitchell, Canadian tackle who was thought to be through for the season last month when he injured his spine, was out to practice. However its doubtful that he will be will be in shape to play Saturday said Crowe.

Stunning, dreamy, and just right for a big evening would be the spontaneous reaction on viewing this wonderful cocktail and theatre costume designed by Pattullo-Jo Copeland.

The beautifully fitted dazzling white box jacket, with three-quarter sleeves is made of a unique fur fabric; specially processed Argentine lamb. This particular material is similar to broadtail but is weightless and very supple. Jet buttons, little patch pockets and a black satin bow underscore the drama of the coat. Under it is worn a black crepe sheath with a gracefully draped skirt and a scoop neckline.

Students Speak On UN Seminar Held At UBC

Kelowna Council of Women was represented by ten local organizations at last week's meeting when, marking the 12th birthday of the founding of United Nations, two Kelowna high school students spoke on the UN seminar held last summer at UBC.

SPECIAL AGENCIES

Anna Marie Neumeyer talked briefly on the specialized agencies working under UN, and particularly of UNICEF and UNESCO.

She said that the first name is making a very real contribution to the health and welfare of the children of underdeveloped nations, and of war-torn countries.

UNESCO helps to spread knowledge by exchange of students as well as by assistance to colleges and universities to those countries badly needing help, by means of international training centres where basic and practical education is carried on.

PEACETIME POWER USES

Robert McCormick spoke chiefly on a lecture given by Professor Warren on the power problem and the atom, in which he emphasized—not control of world power; but rather the harnessing of nuclear power for peacetime purposes.

Both students thanked the local UN Association for giving them the opportunity of attending this course, and also thanked the Canadian Legion for its assistance.

Council members were reminded of UNICEF Christmas cards and notes which are available from members of the local UN, and which Mrs. W. J. McKenzie is taking orders for. Mrs. McKenzie's address is 2240 Pendozi St., and the phone number is 140.

As the Chinese use brushes for writing letters they prefer a softer letter-sheet than Canadians.

PROCLAMATION

Twelve years ago today the Charter of the United Nations came into force. For that reason October 24th has been designated United Nations Day, an occasion on which public men and organizations, both civic and national, will seek to focus attention once again upon the aims and achievements of the world organization and to reaffirm the faith of millions in collective security as the road to peace and international welfare.

Against the background of history twelve years is a very short span. In terms of human experience, however, the world has travelled a great distance since the San Francisco conference.

Just this week Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth II, when speaking to the United Nations Assembly, outlined the aims of the United Nations in the following words:

"This assembly was born of the endeavors of countless men and women from different nations who, over the centuries, have pursued the aim of the preservation of peace between nations, equality of justice for all before the law and the right of the peoples of the world to live their own lives in freedom and security.

"The charter of the United Nations was framed with a view to giving expression to these great purposes and so forming a fitting memorial to the men and women whose toil and sacrifice turned those ideas into articles of faith for the nations of today."

It is with these thoughts in mind and with a desire to rekindle in the minds of our citizens the purpose of the United Nations and appreciation of its work, that the City Council has seen fit to declare October 24th in Kelowna, United Nations Day, and to further urge each of our citizens to give some contemplation upon the United Nations, its aims and objectives.

Signed on behalf of the Corporation of the City of Kelown

Ontario's Grit Chief May Quit

TORONTO (CP)—Future plans of Ontario Liberal Leader Fergusson Oliver remained in doubt following a published report that he does not intend to be a candidate at a provincial leadership convention next April.

The Toronto Telegram says it understands Mr. Oliver told a Liberal party caucus he will not be a candidate.

Mr. Oliver could not be reached for comment.

The Liberal leader said last week he is calling for a leadership convention to be held in conjunction with the annual meeting of the Ontario Liberal Association in Toronto April 18-19.

At the same time he barred two legislature members from the party caucus for criticism of the party leadership. They are A. J. Reaume (Lib.-Essex-North) and Alec Wren (Lib.-Lab.-Kenora).

Mr. Wren indicated he would join another party to press his views with Mr. Oliver.

Premier Frost, who heads the Progressive Conservative government of Ontario, said he will wait until he is approached by Mr. Wren before he considers inviting Mr. Wren to cross the floor and join the Conservatives.

Mr. Reaume said he would not consider leaving the Liberal party.

Mr. Wren said he has been approached by a group of 20 Progressive Conservatives in his riding to contest the seat for them at the next provincial election.

He said he has not given them an answer but added that his expulsion from the party caucus ended his usefulness to the Liberal party.

TOO MANY FAST BUCKS

"Eliminate Tips And Gain Tourists" Says Executive

OTTAWA (CP)—V. Gordon Wood, president of the Canadian Tourist Association, maintained a committee should be set up to study the abolition of tipping in Canada.

Hungarian Cops Patrol Cemeteries

HUNGARIAN COPS...page 12.
BUDAPEST, Hungary (Reuters)—Heavily armed police on foot and horseback Wednesday patrolled a deserted Budapest cemetery beside the graves of people killed in the Hungarian uprising, which broke out a year ago.

The police, in dark-blue raincoats with sub-machine guns slung on their backs, patrolled in pairs. They paced back and forth on every tree-lined avenue among the thousands of graves, many of them of people killed during the fighting, in the vast Kerepesi Cemetery.

The mounted police, carrying long swords, rode their horses at a walk around the perimeter roads and along the main avenues. A few men in plainclothes also kept watch.

Observers said it appeared they were on guard against any attempt by Hungarians to commemorate the rising through pilgrimages to the graves of their dead.

But mostly the police were alone among the tombstones, the falling autumn leaves, and the ghosts of a revolt which failed.

Elsewhere throughout the city, Hungarians plodded to work in the rain under the guns of police and militia men patrolling busy thoroughfares and road junctions.

At the opening of the CTA's annual convention, Mr. Wood said: "We are not saying that it is right or wrong but we do know this—that if Canada could announce that we have abolished all forms of tipping, we believe that we could wipe out our travel deficit with the U.S. of $161,000,000."

The CTA convention follows the annual federal-provincial tourist conference, which closed Tuesday.

Mr. Wood, vice-president for traffic of Trans-Canada Air Lines, also warned delegates that the "age of makeshift accommodation and uninspired food" in the Canadian tourist industry is "declining."

INEXPERIENCE HURTS
The tourist industry was frequently hampered by inexperienced operators. Too often the food and accommodation fields were considered a way to "make a fast buck."

Mr. Wood also told the 400 delegates to the three-day convention that spending in the United States by Canadians averaged $23 per capita whereas the American spending here is less than $2.

Thor Hansen, art director of the British American Oil Company, appealed to the press, government, education, art, and industrial Agencies to improve the souvenir business in Canada.

Mr. Hansen told delegates that Canada imports every year from $8,000,000 to $12,000,000 of "trash" which is sold as souvenirs.

MOSTLY JUNK
"No more than one per cent of all tourists in Canada find good hand-made articles. The other 99 per cent buy their souvenirs from the junk heaps, if they buy at all."

Mr. Hansen said "art goods" imported from other countries should not be labelled as souvenirs of Canada.

He suggested formation of a non-profit design service to produce distinctive Canadian designs for manufacture by Canadians to be sold as authentic Canadian souvenirs.

IN EDMONTON

City Gambles With Millions

By GERRY McNEIL
Canadian Press Staff Writer

EDMONTON (CP) — "Wheat and oil" is the slogan of 238,000 modern frontiersmen in this fast-growing city on the rim of the Prairies.

These well-dressed pioneers spent $69,000,000 on housing construction alone in 1956. When they holiday, they visit Jasper or Banff in the Rockies. They go to Elk Island Park, just 40 miles away, to watch the buffalo graze. They're only a few hours by air from Las Vegas, Vancouver or the Yukon.

They bet $7,000,000 annually on horse races. They love their Eskimos, Canada's champion football team, and the Flyers, their flashy hockey team.

HUGE DEVELOPMENT

They live in quite a city. Its population has doubled since 1947. Alberta's first oil field, which opened in 1947. Much more oil has been discovered since then, even on city property.

Tremendous development has marked the boom. The city hall, completed this year, is nine stories high and cost $4,000,000. The 2,700-seat civic auditorium cost more than $4,500,000. The impressive provincial legislative buildings lie on the north side of the North Saskatchewan River, and on the south side is the University of Alberta with more than 5,000 students.

East of the city numerous oil refineries, chemical plants and related secondary industries fringe the skyline. Since 1950, about $116,000,000 has been spent on their development. West, towards the Rockies, are the oil fields.

And all around is rich cattle and field-crop country. The produce of ranches and farms is marketed through grain elevators and packing plants here.

In the past decade thousands have poured into Edmonton to share the wealth. Hungarians, the newest Canadians, mix with Indians, the oldest, on brightly-lit avenues.

CIVIC PROBLEMS

The growth has raised some civic problems. Busy City Airport is within 16 blocks of Jasper Avenue, the main street. When it was built, it was on the outskirts of town.

The city-owned transit system is in a constant muddle trying to revise its routes to cover new housing developments.

And despite its riches, Edmonton is $99,000,000 in debt—the biggest issue in civic elections. The per capita debt is a whopping $416. It grew as the city was rushed into additional requirements. "Most of our improvements have been made in the last 10 years," explained commissioner J. M. Tweedle.

But few are worrying about the civic load. Only 11 per cent voted in the last mayoral election.

Citizens like to think of Edmonton as being a more serious city than Calgary, the boisterous Stampede city to the south. But the wide-brimmed hats and studded belts are common sights here.

And as the base of the Alaska Highway and the supply base for the Northwest Territories, Edmonton just can't help being colorful.

Missing Person Baffles Sleuths

WINNIPEG (CP)—The brother of a missing Winnipeg accountant says police in the United States, Canada, U.S. immigration inspectors and special investigators still are baffled about the disappearance.

William E. Gatehouse, 45, left on his holiday May 8, presumably for Las Vegas, Nevada. Since then there has been no trace of him, other than reports from persons who claim to have seen him.

His brother, George Gatehouse, said Tuesday that William telephoned his mother at Winnipeg twice May 10, saying he was calling from Salt Lake City, Utah. It has since been determined the calls did not come from Salt Lake City.

The missing man was expected back in Winnipeg about May 21. When he failed to return a week later, a missing report was filed with city police and RCMP. The RCMP conducted an intensive investigation and carried on a lengthy correspondence with U.S. authorities about the case.

George Gatehouse, who recently retraced the route believed taken by his brother and spoke to persons who claim to have seen him, said Salt Lake City police conducted an all-out search for the missing accountant, but to no avail.

U.S. immigration authorities said William Gatehouse has made no attempt to apply for a permanent visa. Social security offices said he has not attempted to obtain a social security card, without which he cannot work in the U.S.

Personal letters to Mrs. Gatehouse from J. Edgar Hoover, head of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, and the U.S. said that although the FBI is willing to cooperate in the search, Mr. Gatehouse has violated no federal laws that would call for his department's interference.

B.C., Ontario Forest Confusion Raped By Paper Executive

TORONTO (CP) — Gordon Godwin, paper company executive, yesterday accused the Ontario and British Columbia governments of confusing the public on their forestry policies.

Mr. Godwin, in an address to the 49th annual Canadian Institute of Forestry convention, said the public would be more interested in forestry policy if they did not have to puzzle out the government's stand.

The Woodlands manager of the Ontario Paper Co. Ltd., Thorold, Ont., said that in British Columbia and Ontario "we see provincial governments encouraging forest industry to establish new plants and enlarge old ones then turning around and demanding payment in the form of logging tax beyond the uniform rate of taxation applied to other business profits."

MAJOR POINTS

There was agreement of opinion among all provinces on at least two aspects of forestry — that of favoring crown ownership and sustained yield. He said 89 per cent of forest land in Canada is crown owned.

"Sustained yield, the primary objective of all forest policy, in which cutting is governed by volume and later by growth capacity, has been achieved in substantial part in many provinces," he said. Before long, "it will be achieved in total within all provinces."

One of the major obstacles to forestry progress had been slow development of public interest. He described the public as "an indifferent landlord."

PARLIAMENT

Tories Find Advisors Plentiful

OTTAWA (CP) — Opposition and government MP's alike have offered the government advice on everything from housing to attempt at the current session.

Housing proposals were made in the Commons throne speech debate Tuesday by Bobby McDonald (PC-Hamilton South) and J. C. Van Horne (PC - Restigouche-Madawaska).

Mr. McDonald suggested a lease-purchase program to help working families buy their homes by applying rent as down payment.

GARDINER SPEAKS

Mr. Hon. James G. Gardiner (L-Melville), making his first opposition speech in 22 years as a Commons member, said the government this session should seek support only for "what must be done now and should call us back to consider their well-thought-out policies early in the new year."

The former agriculture minister also tangled with the CCF and Social Credit groups. He said their motions of non-confidence in the government at this early stage in the new parliament placed party "above the welfare of the country at the present time."

Harold Winch (CCF-Vancouver East) said most of Mr. Gardiner's speech "seemed to be only an expression of the rabid fears of the Liberals that they may be forced to face an early election."

NOT SEEKING DELAY

But Mr. Gardiner, a cabinet minister from his 1935 debut in the Commons until his party's election defeat June 10, said no one should think the Liberals are supporting the government at present just because the convention to pick a successor to Rt. Hon. Louis St. Laurent won't be held until mid-January.

"There is nothing that would be more helpful to the Liberal party... than that we should be having it (an election) under the present St. Laurent leadership."

Mr. Winch said after hearing Mr. Gardiner: "Never has it taken so long to say so little."

Canada Gains World Wheat Exports Lead

OTTAWA (CP) — Canada led the world in wheat exports in August though the amount shipped was slightly below that of last year.

This was the first time in four years that Canada has topped the United States in wheat exports in the opening month of the new crop year.

The 1957 Soviet wheat crop is about 25 per cent below expectations, a Western diplomat in close touch with the Moscow scene estimates.

"There is no immediate danger of widespread hunger," the diplomat said, "because the Russians can fall back on stockpiles from the 1956 bumper crop."

Sputnik Beats Halley Comet Meteor Blast

MOSCOW (AP) — The Russian satellite Sputnik has weathered a shower of meteorites from Halley's Comet and has travelled a distance of 30 times greater than that from the earth to the moon, the Soviet Union said today.

The meteorite bombardment, which started Oct. 19, reached its greatest intensity Tuesday.

Since it was launched Oct. 4, Sputnik has circled the earth 27 times and had travelled 7,200,000 miles as of noon (Moscow time) today, the government newspaper Izvestia said.

Sputnik now is trailing its carrier rocket by more than 33 minutes or more than 14,400 miles — about half the distance around the earth, the article said.

Europe Marks Anniversary Of Hungary Revolt

LONDON (CP) — The anniversary of the beginning of last October's Hungarian revolt against Russian domination was marked yesterday by simple ceremonies in many European cities and tributes in newspapers to the heroes of the unsuccessful bid for freedom.

Hungarian refugees placed a wreath at the cenotaph here, dedicated "to those who died for freedom from those who fight for freedom."

CONTRACT BRIDGE

by B. JAY BECKER
(Top Record-Holder in Masters' Individual Championship Play)

South dealer.		East- West vulnerable.
NORTH		EAST
♠ K 5 2	♠ Q 10 7 5 2	♠ A 9 7	♠ J 4
♥ Q J	♥ 8 5 4 3	♥ A 10	♥ 6 3
♦ A K Q 10 6 2	♦ 8 5	♦ A 9	♦ 10 7 5 2
♣ A 10 8 6 3	♣ A 9	♣ K 10 2	♣ 7 3

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1♣	2♣	3♣	4♣

Opening lead—king of clubs.

Point count is usually thought of only in connection with the bidding, but point count can also be put to work in some hands during the play.

South is destined to go down one at his four spade contract if the defenders cooperate fully to get the most out of their cards.

The king of clubs is opened and East plays the encouraging eight.

West continues with the queen (not the ace) to show complete control of the suit. Since the king and queen win the first two tricks, East of course knows who has the ace of clubs.

West now leads a low club. Dummy's jack is automatically played and East must be careful to ruff with the jack of spades. This is not a difficult play at all because West appears to be asking East to ruff as high as he can. If West did not want East to ruff he would have led the ace of clubs with which he had marked himself.

South overruffs with the queen, but there is now no way for declarer to avoid the loss of two trump tricks, and he is down one.

How is West supposed to detect that this is the winning line of defense? Here is where point count comes in.

West observes in his own hand 13 high card points. Dummy shows with 13 points also. Since there are just 40 points in the deck, only 14 points remain to be accounted for in the East and South hands.

South must have the bulk of them to account for his opening bid. East cannot have an ace, otherwise South's spade bid would consist of 10 points.

The only hope for the setting trick, therefore must lie in making two trump tricks. This is possible if East was dealt either the ten, jack, or queen of spades. Hence the ace of clubs is under-erased as the only conceivable chance of defeating the contract.

SOLAR RADIATION SAID SOURCE OF RUSS SATELLITE'S POWER

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP)—Solar radiation may be recharging the radio batteries of satellite Sputnik. Smithsonian Astrophysical Observatory acknowledges the strong signal from Sputnik might call for up to 300 dry cell batteries of the type known in North America. This in turn led to a puzzle since the Russians said their sphere is only 23 inches in diameter, nowhere near large enough to accommodate such a large number of batteries as well radio equipment.

FORMALLY DECLARED OUT

Yukon Liberal Unseated

OTTAWA (CP)—The Commons seat of Liberal Aubrey Simmons, winner of a disputed election in Yukon constituency last June 10, has been formally declared vacant. Speaker Roland Michener announced receipt of the judgment of a court at Yellowknife, Y.T., which voided the election on the grounds that 465 ballots had been cast irregularly. The court found no evidence of fraud or corruption.

CONVICT MOTHER GETS OIL SHARES

TORONTO (CP)—A Calgary woman has forwarded a $20 oil dividend to a Toronto mother who was sentenced last week to six months for a 70-cent postal theft.

The woman, who asked that her name be withheld, wrote: "You know this much-vaunted $20 dividend we lucky Albertans received. I can't think of a better way of using it."

The Toronto woman's conviction is being appealed.

Mr. Simmons, 60-year-old former Yukon magistrate and MP since 1949, was not in his seat when the announcement was made. He announced last Friday that he would not appeal the court decision to the Supreme Court of Canada, but rather would seek re-election in the new vote which will be ordered in the Yukon. No date has been set for the vote.

The court decision was made on a petition by Progressive Conservative candidate Erik Nielsen, who lost the election by a 64-vote margin. He had had a slight edge on the civilian vote, but the armed services vote swung the election to Mr. Simmons. The unseating leaves the Liberals with 105 Commons supporters, compared with 111 Conservatives, 25 CCF members, 19 Social Crediters, two independents

Disclosure Of Farm Loan Bids To Public Banned By Ottawa

OTTAWA (CP)—Applications for loans to the Canadian farm loan board are not to be disclosed to the public, Finance Minister Fleming said today. If the board has disclosed such applications it has done so for the last time, he said in the Commons in reply to H. A. Bryson (CCF-Humboldt-Melfort). Mr. Bryson had asked whether it is the board's "unethical and high-handed" practice to divulge such information to farm implement companies. Mr. Fleming said he had received a complaint from Mr. Bryson that a farmer who applied for a loan was advised by a farm implement firm, before the board did so, that his application was turned down. "If the board has done what he (Mr. Bryson) intimates, it will not do it again," Mr. Fleming said.

Inger Stevens Compares With Bergman And Grace Kelly

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Being a Swede, Inger Stevens has naturally been compared with Ingrid Bergman. Being fresh-faced and blonde, she has been compared with Grace Kelly.

"Though they are complimentary, I hate comparisons," says Inger. "I suppose they are the result of a laziness of description: people can't think up new adjectives, so they make comparisons. But I'd rather be known as Inger Stevens."

My bet is that she will get her way. Already she has made a fine impression as Bing Crosby's leading lady in Man on Fire. She went on to Cry Terror with James Mason, and now is playing opposite Yul Brynner in The Buccaneer.

What does she have? She is strikingly beautiful, as Bergman and Kelly were. She is also a convincing dramatic actress. And Inger is warm and friendly, which the two noted ex-patriates were not.

What's more, she's got a dimple! "Yes, I've always had it," she sighed. "I'm not so sure it's an asset. My grandmother used to say a dimple was a sign of a structural deficiency."

INTERESTING NOTIONS Inger is full of interesting notions. At lunch she took her fruit juice with a chaser—"the body can't absorb juice in such concentrated form." She is a great one for bran muffins and yogurt, and her lunch consisted of juice, green beans and rice. But you can't knock such a diet when you see the results on her.

Inger came to the United States at 10, lived in both Manhattan and New York and Kansas. She grew up in the latter, where her father was a teacher at Kansas State Agricultural College.

"I've been supporting myself since I was 15," she related. "I've done everything, including taking inventory at Montgomery Ward in Kansas. What fun it was—counting wool socks with the temperature 115!"

She went back to New York and tried her hand at modelling, posing for toothpaste commercials and acting in television. The latter gave her seasoning (as it did Grace Kelly) and brought her to the attention of movie makers.

RETAILERS ORGANIZE WHITEHORSE, Y.T. (CP)—Formation of a Yukon division of the Retail Merchants Association of Canada was announced Saturday by the association's general manager, David A. Gilbert. U.S. Missile Has Deadly Accuracy

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U.S. Navy reports its Sidewinder infrared air-to-air missile is so accurate it can shoot a flare-pit of the wing of a drone target plane.

The navy at the same time permitted the General Electric Company, producer of Sidewinder guidance and control units, to outline for the first time officially just how the Sidewinder is guided by an infra-red detector.

H. F. Konig, general manager of G.E.'s light military electronic equipment department at Ulen, N.Y., said in a prepared release: "Sidewinder seeks out the hottest target in the sky. In warfare, this would be a hot engine on an enemy aircraft."

In a navy accuracy test the plane bearing a flare-pot on one wing, sought out not merely the one aircraft itself but the flame coming from the mouth of the flare-pot.
